It's hard to believe, but our next meeting is December 7th. Once again, we are asking members to bring a small plate of Christmas goodies to share. Along with our usual socializing, the program should be both fun and entertaining. Cathy has created our own "Chapter 92 Jeopardy Game". Some members of the Executive had an opportunity to 'play' the game recently and it was a great success.

We haven't had a display for a while, but it is time to get back into the spirit of sharing (very appropriate given the season). It is nice to coordinate the display with the talk, but that isn't always possible. So for this meeting, we're going to start back through the alphabet, this time using well-known makers. This meeting we'd like you to bring your favourite Ansonia Clock.

As always, doors open at 9:00 a.m, our program will begin around 10:00 and we will finish up with the Silent Auction.

Help Wanted

Like most clubs, we are finding it hard to 'share the workload'. The following is a list of 'positions' that would greatly help to share the load. These positions do not involve any extra meetings.

Display Chairman: Look after organizing the display, including prizes.

Door Greeter: Sit at the door to welcome any newcomers.

Mentors: Needed for clock repair courses and to help newcomers feel at home in our meetings

Hall Liaison: Ensure that the Legion is reminded that we are coming, serve as contact person, arrange yearly contract, etc.

OCTOBER MEETING

We had a great first meeting of the year! Andy Dervan was able to make the meeting and we were finally able to hear his much-anticipated presentation on Patti Clocks. Andy brought two beautiful examples with him for display. The Silent Auction was very lively, with over 23 tables on offer. Our thanks to Dave Chalk who has volunteered to look after the membership list.

Fall Clock Repair Workshop – The Fall Clock Repair Workshop has started, but there is still time to learn a lot from Eldon and the Mentors (sounds like a rock group, doesn't it?) Call Gerry if you think you might like to join the group.

One Day Lathe Workshop

Just a reminder about the Lathe Workshop on November 29. This will be a hands-on workshop with lunch provided.

Location : Mount Brydges Legion. Date: November 29, 2008, 10:00 a.m.—4 p.m.

Cost is $20 for clock repair workshop participants or $30 on its own

Please call Gerry Koolen for more information or to register. 1-866-913-0177

Another Great Sale for Club Members

Harold Leach, a founding member of NAWCC Chapter #92 (London, ON) & his wife, Ila, are pleased to offer a fine selection of clocks & antique items at their heritage home in London. Their collection, built over more than 40 years, is comprised entirely of quality items including wooden works, with significant clocks by: Eli Terry, Silas Hoadley, Chauncey Jerome, Aurthur Pequegnat, Riley Whiting, and many others. Confirmed clock collectors will not miss this sale, as many bargains will be available!

All clocks were evaluated, and prices established in accordance with today's slumping market. We will employ a modified version of Chapter #92's silent auction procedures, in which buyers may confirm their purchase at the price established on a "first come - first served" basis, or may bid a lesser amount. The seller will not be obligated to sell any item for which the established price has not been met.

- Sunday, November 23, 2008 (11:00 am – 2:00 pm), NO EARLY ADMITTANCE.
- 247 Halls Mill Rd., London, ON (Byron). Vehicles permitted in Harold's laneway only momentarily for loading your purchases.
- Parking - across the road behind the library, please! (map attached).
- Cash, or personal cheque with proper I.D.
- Sale open to all NAWCC members, and their guests.

Harold has a number of other fantastic antiques that he would like to sell and will entertain offers on those items! A worthy sale!!!
